

Meeting One – 8/31/2026 – Online – City of Hope

- Bank accounts: $11,410
- Morgan's daily account: $125,000
- Budget: $21,625
- FOLLOW the social media!
- SSBTR: the goal is to raise money and awareness for brain tumor research

| SSBTR Estimated Budget 2026-2027                     |          |
|------------------------------------------------------|----------|
| ACCOUNTING FEES                                      | $3600   |
| AWARDS                                               | $800    |
| AZ Corp Comm                                         | $10     |
| Banking Fees                                         | $1,900  |
| Comp Supp & Zoom                                     | $2400   |
| GALA                                                 | $6500   |
| Insurance                                            | $2300   |
| Mail Box                                             | $250    |
| Postage                                              | $400    |
| SUSD Fees                                            | $650    |
| Tee Shirts                                           | $2000   |
| Liquor License                                       | $15     |
| TUTUS                                                | $800    |
| Total Operating Budget                               | $21,625 |
| Submitted by Jayden Nguyen, senior at BASIS Chandler |          |

- $250,000 last year raised for brain tumor progress and supporting families
- There are 1.3 million people living with a primary brain tumor currently
- 180,000 new cases are diagnosed every year, but this doesn't mean that overall people with brain tumors have a low quality of life. Treatments are improving, and more people are living longer with tumors.
- 90,000 cases a few years ago were discovered, so the number has increased in recent years.
- Cure-a-thon takes place on last Saturday of February, so please attend!
- New goal: 260,000 for 26th year
- 2 sponsors: Rick Oehme Foundation and Mark Erison's Family
- NEW WEBSITE: within next week, monthly newsletters

Colleen Torres: the senior director of the Office of Philanthropy at City of Hope

- Not all brain tumors are alike, but SSBTR contributions to research helps TGen researchers to advance in brain tumor treatments in genomics. TGen is under the City of Hope, and where philanthropy comes in is not just in fundraising but also "friend-raising." So how can we think "bigger", bringing SSBTR's mission to wider audiences at our campuses? Lead from your heart, your true commitment to SSBTR and why you joined, using your creativity to reach students and professionals alike.